

Araceli Simeón-Luna

Araceli Simeón-Luna provides strategic and programmatic support to the Parent Organization Network (PON), which connects, empowers, and mobilizes parents in Los Angeles County to ensure a high quality education for all students. Prior to becoming an education consultant, Araceli worked for over a decade at MALDEF directing the Los Angeles and National Parent School Partnership (PSP) program. The (PSP) program has trained thousands of parents and community leaders throughout the nation to become education advocates for their children and change agents in their community. During her tenure she led various projects, coalitions and grassroots efforts in education, including assisting the Asian Americans Advancing Justice | LA, the Los Angeles Urban League, and MALDEF in co-founding the Parent Organization Network. She graduated summa cum laude from the California State Polytechnic University, at Pomona and received her Master's degree in Public Policy from the University of Southern California.
